Re: Proposed Measure to Avoid Confusion - Use of 'RU' at the second level

The .ANALTYICS Registry has been designed specifically to create trusted online spaces for SAS ANALTYICS products, services, training and provide secure access to its customers around the world, as well as support its loyal communities and followers in a controlled and more secure environment.

Campus IP LLC as the Registry Operator for the .ANALYTICS TLD, the "Registry Operator", we have selected the label 'RU' to be reserved for registry operations as described in Section 3.2 of Specification 5 of our Registry Agreement. The domain name 'RU.ANALYTICS' will be used exclusively by us for the promotion of the TLD, its registry operations and Affiliates, and we will act as the Registrant of the domain name.

Registry Operator understands the concern that confusion may arise, and in order to avoid such confusion is willing to offer the following:

1.The domain name 'RU.ANALYTICS' will:

a.be used exclusively by Registry Operator to support and assist the promotion of its registry operations and Affiliated business;

b.not be used to imply that it is, or represents, the government of The Russian Federation; and c.not be used to imply the government of The Russian Federation's approval of Registry Operator's operations or activities.

2.Registry Operator will commit to:

a.investigate any reports of misuse, including misleading or deceptive conduct, including those from the government of The Russian Federation, and provide a written report in response; and b.where, in Registry Operator's sole opinion, misuse has occurred,registry operator will seek to work indirectly with the sponsoring registrar and/or directly with the registrant to address the misuse.

c.In the event that misuse continues to occur, the Registry Operator may, in its sole discretion, undertake direct action up to and including suspension or deletion of the domain name.

By this undertaking Research IP LLC. confirms that all registrations of two letter domain names shall comply with the requirements of Specification 13.

Respectfully submitted,

Karen L. Day
