Subject: [Ext] Abuse

Good morning Mr/Mrs. Marby. I am emailing you upset and sad that I was scammed by someone that is registered to your services. Now I understand that you protect their privacy, but I purchased an item from them that never arrived and the tracking system that they gave me ended 30 days after the purchase. I would like to get my money back, and I would love to stop this person from continually abusing hard working individuals, my son worked all summer long to afford the price for the scooter just to find out he was tricked, that's unacceptable and it's giving your company (icann) a bad name, because it comes back to you, and it seems you guys are okay with protecting criminals. I work in the law enforcement agency in New York, more specifically the FBI, so please let me know what type of documents you need so that we can catch this criminal and stop them from taking innocent children's money. This could've happened to anyone, just be happy your children aren't the ones crying to you about this. Have a great day and I hope to hear back from you soon.
