RE: Review Team Candidatures

Dear Sirs/Madams:

I would like to express my interest to apply for the Call for Applicants for the Position of Volunteer Review Team Member - Affirmation of Commitment Reviews, launched on 11 January 2010.

I believe my background, my experience and my capabilities match the requirements listed in the call for applicants, and at the same time they cover a wide range of knowledge and skills that support -with the evidence that can be reviewed in my resume- that my involvement in this process will be useful and profitable.

I have more than twenty year of professional experience in the ICTs field, and in the last ten years I have performed as National and International Consultant on Public Policies for the Information and Knowledge Society.

The vision of the ICTs for development is a pillar for all the activities I been carrying out since the beginning. At the same time, the linkages between ICTs, Information and Knowledge Society and Democracy are key issues in my researching activities, and will be the core issue of my Doctorate Thesis starting this year.

Another important motivation to be part of this review process is that my region, Latin America, is underrepresented in all global processes related to Internet Governance, and taking this into consideration, I plan not only to collaborate with all my best efforts, but to transfer all the knowledge and experience to the key actors and decision makers in the field of ICTs and Internet Governance in the region.

To make the latter possible, I will coordinate activities with the professional networks I am part of.

As a conclusion, I would like to add that I consider that this is an important opportunity to be part of a truly creative, innovative, open and core process within the context of the global governance that will shape the present and the future for all.

My resume, detailing my background, is enclosed for your review. If you require any further information, please feel free to contact me.

Yours faithfully,

Roxana Laura Goldstein
