About Public Comment

What is Public Comment?

Public Comment gives the ICANN community, Internet stakeholders, and the general public an opportunity to provide input on ICANN’s work and policies. It is a vital part of our multistakeholder model and contributes to our transparency and accountability commitments.

How Does Public Comment Work?

The ICANN Board, Supporting Organizations, Advisory Committees, or ICANN organization (org) can open a Public Comment proceeding that outlines specific issues or questions for feedback. Stakeholders provide opinions and recommendations, and their submissions are public and archived. ICANN org summarizes the submissions and identifies common themes into a summary report. The group that opened the proceeding then reviews the submissions and summary report, addresses the input, and proposes next steps.

How Do You Provide Input?

Any individual or organization can submit comments to any open proceeding located at: https://www.icann.org/public-comment. You will need to create or log in to ICANN Account in order to leave a comment on an open proceeding. Once the Public Comment proceeding closes, ICANN org produces a summary report that summarizes the input and feedback received.

Note: Regardless of how you complete a Public Comment submission form, both the Email and Summary for Submission field are always required for submitting a comment. Other questions may be required depending on the proceeding submission form you are completing.

a. Answering guided questions.

The types of answers you will be asked to provide in the submission form can be single select, multi-select, ranker, and open-ended as depicted in the example form below.
1. In developing recommendations for future treatment of country and territory names, Work Track 5 has considered several alternatives related to translation. In your view, which alternative is the best option?

- Continue to reserve as unavailable translations in any language
- Reserve as unavailable translations in UN languages
- Reserve as unavailable translations in UN languages and the official languages of the country
- Reserve as unavailable translations in official languages of the country
- Reserve as unavailable translations in official and commonly used languages
- Reserve as unavailable translations in official and relevant national, regional, and community languages
- Reserve as unavailable translations in “principal languages” where the principal languages are the official or de facto national languages and the statutory or de facto provincial languages of that country
- A combination of two or more categories above

2. Which of the following should serve as a basis for the development of policies regarding geographic names?

- International law
- National/local law and policy
- Norms and values

Another basis not categorized above (please specify)

3. Work Track members have considered a series of principles that may be used to guide the development of future policy on geographic names. The principles were discussed in the context of city names and terms not included in the 2012 Application Guidebook, but they may be applicable more broadly. Please rank these principles in order of importance from 1 to 4 (1=most important and 4=least important).

- In alignment with Principle C from the 2007 GNSO recommendations on new gTLDs, the program should allow for the introduction of new gTLDs.
- In alignment with Principle A from the 2007 GNSO recommendations on new gTLDs, enhance the predictability for all parties.
- Reduce the likelihood of conflicts within the process, as well as after the process concludes and TLDs are delegated.
- Policies and processes should be simple to the extent possible.

4. The definition of the term “geographic name” could impact development of policy and implementation guidance, as well as program implementation details, such as guidance for the Geographic Names Panel in the New gTLD application process. In your view, how should the term “geographic name” be defined for the 9 Preliminary Recommendations, Questions for Community Input, and Options/Proposals purposes of the New gTLD Program?
