The overarching objective of ICANN’s remuneration framework is to ensure remuneration provided is competitive globally and that it provides those who work at ICANN Org with appropriate motivation for high performance toward agreed objectives. The remuneration philosophy aims to:

- Attract and retain high caliber individuals
- Ensure it is competitive
- Ensure it is transparent

Role of the Board of Directors in Overseeing Remuneration for ICANN Org

The Board of Directors of ICANN provides the overarching compensation philosophy for ICANN Org. The Board Compensation Committee makes recommendations to the full Board with respect to compensation for the President and Chief Executive Officer (CEO), other ICANN Officers, and the Ombudsman. The Board Compensation Committee meets regularly.

Remuneration Components

ICANN Org is global and its remuneration philosophy is designed to be consistent with local practices where those who work with ICANN Org are located. As such, not all components listed below apply to all of those with ICANN Org:

- Base salary
- Discretionary at-risk component (eligibility based on position, and achievement of goals and objectives)
- Time off benefits (vacation, holiday, sick time, bereavement, jury service, and the like)
- Health and welfare benefits (medical, dental, vision, life insurance, accidental and dismemberment, and the like)
- Retirement benefits
- Housing, and other re-location allowances

Philosophy and History

The goal of the ICANN remuneration program is to pay salaries that are competitive for comparable positions at organizations similar to ICANN in activities, scope, complexity and responsibility for the purpose of attracting and retaining the necessary talents and skills to execute ICANN’s mission.

In 2011, the consulting firm of Willis Towers Watson (formerly Towers Watson) was retained to evaluate the existing framework for ICANN’s remuneration program. Based on a thorough review of ICANN’s position descriptions, analysis of ICANN’s work, and meetings with both ICANN Org and the Board Compensation Committee, Willis Towers Watson recommended that the ICANN framework be updated to reflect the following – continue to target compensation between the 50th and 75th percentile based on the benchmarking of positions, with the benchmarking of positions based on a blend of data obtained from high-technology, not-for-profit, and general industry data. Blending of data is done for each position and is based on a number of factors including where ICANN Org would source candidates to fill positions as well as where those who leave ICANN Org go when they leave. The Board formally approved an updated remuneration framework provided by Willis Towers Watson in May 2012.

Base Salary

In deciding to generally target compensation between the 50th and 75th percentile of the distribution of salaries paid, using a blend of not-for-profit, for-profit general industry, and high technology organizations, the Board sought to ensure that ICANN is competitive for labor when recruiting to its needs. The Board also recognized that considering the potential future exigencies facing the organization, some flexibility to the principles might be necessary in certain circumstances.

Further, it is recognized that the organization might have to pay outside of the target levels in circumstances where the specialized nature of the role, the risk to the organization, the driving market forces or other supportable logic present significant issues to ICANN’s on-going performance.

Periodically the Board reviews compensation for the President and CEO, and all other Officers. Executive management generally annually reviews ICANN Org compensation levels consistent with the overall remuneration framework.

ICANN uses a global compensation expert consulting firm to provide comprehensive benchmarking market data (currently Willis Towers Watson, Mercer and Radford). The market study is conducted before the salary review process. Estimates of potential compensation adjustments typically are made during the budgeting process based on current market data. The budget is then approved as part of ICANN’s overall budget planning process.

Discretionary At-Risk Component

ICANN’s at-risk compensation program is designed to provide incentives to those who work at ICANN Org for the accomplishment of specific goals and objectives throughout the year that have been identified as being of significant importance or adding value to the overall ICANN effort, as well as the way the individual goes about accomplishing those goals (the “behaviors”).

The amount of at-risk pay an individual can earn is based on a combination of both the achievement of goals as well as the behaviors exhibited in achieving those goals. Whether or not to pay those who work at ICANN Org all or any portion of their potential at-risk compensation is at the full discretion of ICANN management. It is fair and reasonable to expect those with ICANN Org (especially managers and executives) to deliver on their responsibilities, and where they fail to deliver, not to enjoy the financial benefits.

Most who work at ICANN Org participate in the at-risk compensation program. Senior management determines which individuals will be eligible to participate, and the level of that participation. The Board has approved a framework whereby those with ICANN Org are eligible to earn an at-risk payment of up to 20 percent of base compensation as at-risk payment based on role and level in the organization, with certain senior executives eligible for up to 30 percent.
The available at-risk compensation is calculated at the level of participation (expressed as a percent) times the amount of base compensation earned during an evaluation period.

Most participants have an opportunity to earn a portion of their annual at-risk compensation twice a year, which is known as the “at-risk opportunity”. The at-risk opportunity is the amount of at-risk compensation that is available to be earned for an evaluation period, and is calculated by multiplying base compensation earned during the evaluation period and the at-risk target percentage. For example, a someone who works at ICANN Org could have an at-risk target of 10%, an annual base compensation of US$50,000, and base compensation earned of US$25,000 for the evaluation period, which would result in an at-risk opportunity of US$2,500 (US$25,000 x 10% = US$2,500).

Actual at-risk compensation “earned” is based on the final performance score given by a participant’s manager. For example, if an individual has an at-risk opportunity of US$2,500 and a performance score of 95% for an evaluation period, the at-risk compensation earned would be US$2,375 for that evaluation period (US$2,500 x 95% = US$2,375). Participants with performance scores at or above 100% will be eligible for 100% of the at-risk opportunity for the evaluation period. Participants with final performance scores below 50% for a given evaluation period are not eligible for an at-risk compensation for that period.

All recommendations for final performance scores made by ICANN managers must be reviewed and approved by the SVP of Global HR.

The discretionary at-risk compensation amount is typically paid within 60 days of the end of the applicable period. Those who work at ICANN Org must be actively reporting to work as required by ICANN on the date the payment is made, in order to receive the at-risk payment. Individuals whose working relationship with ICANN has ended before the payment is made to the majority of at-risk compensation recipients are generally not eligible for payment. Either the President and CEO, or the Chief Operating Officer approves the processing of payments of the at-risk compensation amounts; in the case of the President and CEO, the Board approves the at-risk payment amount.

If a participant is not actively reporting to work as required by ICANN (e.g., is on short-term disability or maternity leave) for at least 25% of the evaluation period, the amount of at-risk opportunity representing the worked portion of the evaluation period as required by ICANN, will be carried over and added to the at-risk opportunity for the next evaluation period.

If a participant is hired or engaged after a predetermined eligibility date during any evaluation period, the amount of at-risk opportunity representing the worked portion of the evaluation period in which the participant was engaged or hired, will be carried over and added to the at-risk opportunity for the next evaluation period.

If a participant receives a change in his or her at-risk target during the evaluation period, the new at-risk target will start to apply on the effective date of the change. For example, if a participant has an at-risk target of 10% at the start of an evaluation period and then receives a change in at-risk target to 20% at the halfway point of the evaluation period, then 10% would be used to determine the at-risk opportunity for the first half of the evaluation period and 20% would be used to determine the at-risk opportunity for the second half of the evaluation period.
Time Off Benefits

Time off benefits include vacation time, public holidays, sick time, bereavement leave, jury service pay, and any other paid time off required by law. Payments for these benefits are made in lieu of base pay for the benefit day(s) and are reported as part of base compensation.

Health and Welfare Benefits

Health and welfare benefits include health insurance programs (such as medical, dental or vision plans), life insurance, accidental death and dismemberment insurance, travel accident and other relevant insurances as appropriate. The types and levels of programs provided are based on competitive and regional practices as well as local law. Every effort is made to treat those who work at ICANN Org equitably based on competitive practices in their regions. This includes providing certain individuals with benefit compensation in lieu of buying benefits directly for them when such purchases are not practical or available to ICANN.

Retirement Benefits

Retirement benefits are provided to those who work at ICANN Org based on competitive and regional practices as well as local law. Every effort is made to treat individuals equitably based on competitive practices in their regions. This includes providing certain individuals with compensation directly in lieu of contributing to a retirement scheme where such contributions are not practical or available to ICANN. Where ICANN contributes to a retirement program all contributions are made during the individual’s term of employment. ICANN Org does not accrue any liability for retirement benefits to be paid upon retirement of anyone who work at ICANN Org.

Housing and Other Relocation Allowances

In some instances, housing or other re-location allowances may be provided to individuals when they are asked to work in a location that makes commuting from their permanent home impractical, or where they are relocated at ICANN Org’s request. The allowances, which are typically subject to ICANN’s mobility policy absent special circumstances, are not intended to cover the full cost of maintaining two households. Any housing or other allowance provided is reported as taxable compensation as appropriate and applicable.
