
Subject: Re: [Rssac-admin-committee] Request for Clarification on Term Length and Term Limits of Representative to the Root Zone Evolution Review Committee (RZERC)
Date: Thursday, November 14, 2019 at 17:26:00 Pacific Standard Time
From: Rssac-admin-committee on behalf of Carlos Reyes
To: Fred Baker
CC: Rssac-admin-committee, Wessels, Duane

Hi, Fred.

RSSAC000v4 is now in force, and the term for RSSAC liaison to RZERC is two years per section 1.2.8.8.

<https://www.icann.org/en/system/files/files/rssac-000-op-procedures-13mar19-en.pdf> [icann.org]

(When the role was created in 2016, it was a one-year term, but that was adjusted last year.)

Brad was elected last year, so he has one more year left in this term before RSSAC conducts another election.

Best,
Carlos

Carlos Reyes
Strategic Policy Planning Director
Internet Corporation for Assigned Names and Numbers (ICANN)

On Nov 14, 2019, at 20:19, Fred Baker

wrote:

Brad:

As I understand RSSAC000 section 1.2.6.7, the term of the liaison to RZERC is one year, we need to go through an election process to answer Duane's question, and I need to ensure that the person in the role serves at most three successive years. I don't know, so let me ask: how long have you served in the role? If elected, are you willing to continue in it?

Fred